My direct Darke County connections encompass two generations and part of the childhood of a third. Although there are still cousins of varying distance in the Darke County area, my last direct family connection ended with the death of my great-grandmother, Anna Elizabeth KERLIN Seitz, in Greenville in 1918.

My great-great grandfather, William Kendrick KERLIN was born March 2, 1832, near Richmond, Ind. He died April 28, 1903, in Greenville, Ohio. William was a farmer in Wayne County, Ind., until 1865 when he moved to Harrison township, Darke County. He continued farming until 1870 when he moved to Greenville. He was elected justice of peace and appointed deputy county treasurer, serving four years, while living in Harrison township. In 1874, William was elected Darke County treasurer, and he was re-elected in 1876. Back then, the treasurer was paid based on a percentage of the taxes he collected. Family tradition is that he built his fortune by collected back taxes owed by the railroads. He was a stock dealer and money lender after leaving office.

In 1883, William K. KERLIN was the chief founder and stockholder of Second National Bank of Greenville. He was elected president and ran the bank until resigning in January 1900 due to failing health.

My great-great grandmother, Hannah Bennett JEFFERIS, was born Nov 28, 1830 in Wayne County, Ind. She died April 10, 1909, in Greenville, Ohio. Hannah married William Kendrick KERLIN Dec. 1, 1853, in Wayne County, Ind.

Another great-great grandmother, Catherine BEERY Seitz, moved to Greenville from Fairfield County, Ohio, after the 1864 death of husband, Daniel SEITZ (1791-1864). At least two of her children, George Washington SEITZ (1841-1945) and Enoch Beery SEITZ, accompanied her. It's not clear exactly when Catherine left Greenville, but it may have been about 1879 when her son Enoch took a job in Missouri. She initially went to stay with a daughter in Putnam County, Ohio, but then went to live with Enoch in Kirksville, Mo. After his death in 1883, she returned to the home of her daughter, Sophrona SEITZ Blosser, in Putnam County. Catherine was born April 11, 1808, in Fairfield County, Ohio. She died Feb. 2, 1904, in Putnam County.

Enoch Beery SEITZ was born Aug. 24, 1846, near Bremen, Fairfield County, Ohio. He died of typhoid fever Oct. 8, 1883, in Kirksville, Mo. He is buried in Greenville. Enoch was a self-taught mathematician of such ability that in 1880 he became only the fifth American elected to the Mathematical Society of London. From 1872 to 1879, Enoch held the chair of mathematics at Greenville High School and may have served as principal during part of this period. In 1879 he became professor of mathematics at the state Normal School in Kirksville, Mo. At the time of his death he had been chosen to be head of the math department at the University of Texas. Enoch married Anna Elizabeth KERLIN June 24, 1875. They had four sons. The oldest, Raymond, was born in Greenville. The others were born in Kirksville, although all lived in Greenville for a while after their father's death. The third son, Clarence, died shortly before his fifth birthday in Greenville and is buried beside his parents. The youngest son, Enoch Beery SEITZ Jr., my grandfather, was born only a few months before his father's death.

Anna Elizabeth KERLIN was born Oct. 27, 1854, a few miles north of Richmond, Ind. She died Feb. 19, 1918, in Greenville. She is the second of the 11 children of William Kendrick KERLIN and Hannah JEFFERIS.Anna taught in the Greenville schools from 1872 to June 1875 when she married Enoch. Following Enoch's death, she and her four sons returned to Greenville where she taught for nine more years. In 1894, she returned to Kirksville and taught at the Normal School until 1898, serving as principal or supervisor of its training or demonstration school. During this time or shortly thereafter, each of her three surviving sons began attending the normal school. Two of them graduated from the school. The third may have transferred to the University of Missouri. Anna graduated from the Columbian School of Osteopathy, which is in Kirksville, in 1899. She practiced in Richmond, Ind., Cape Girardeau, Mo., and Phoenix, Ariz. Early in 1904, she completed a post-graduate course at American School of Osteopathy, also located in Kirksville. In February 1904, she returned to Greenville where she set up practice as the only female osteopathic practitioner in the county. She continued that practice until her death.

..... John Alan GRIMES, the youngest of four children, and my hubby . . . I don't post the data for living relatives . . . but this 'should' allow you a chance to see something familiar.

I do have WILLIAMSON, and McGINNIS, data but for the life of me . . . I can't seem to locate it at the moment. I'm assuming it's due to all of the re-construction around here. At least that's my sincerest hope! :o)

I have been making great strides at filling in many of the blanks!

Specifically I have recently made H-U-G-E strides on the BEANBLOSSOM for which I have a copy of the book about the family, and POE that I now have computer files on. The net result is that my brain just can't seem to get re-organized . . . let alone assimilate all of it . . . so I'll try to keep things as organized [and brief] as my scattered notes will allow.

I'd like to thank Belinda Rodgers for her assistance with the extensive BEANBLOSSOM data . . . Mike Reck has been invaluable with his ready assistance on the history of our RECK line, and so many of my husband's distant POE cousins that I've lost count. Altho Marge and Randy are two names that stand out in the family crowd!

I'm VERY certain that I'm not even scratching the surface, on listing my sources, but without all of you, I'd still be sitting here in WA without a clue. Some of my earliest helpers are noted in the above outline, and as I can get things all put together

OH! One surname that I had taken off of my research list, DEUBNER, can now be added back as it is in our 'associated families' group. It turns out that my husband's grandmother, Maude Edith LUDY, had a brother, John LUDY, who had died young . . . but not before he m. Sofia DEUBNER. The puzzle is solved! Somebody had gone on "memory", when they filled out all of the slots in my mother-in-law's Bible, and we all know how the memory can twist things! One of the biggest surprises was that there had been an uncle that my husband had never known about. It seems that he also died young,his name was John JOHNSTON, and in all of my husband's years of growing up . . . no one thought to mention him. Well . . .

they did I suppose as my husband was named, John, as a remembrance for both of these men. I guess they thought that he'd just automatically 'know' all of that.

Dick Folkerth

I am Frank Richard Folkerth, aka Dick. I have never lived in DCO but visiting the Great Darke County Fair with a grandfather who was a tractor salesman (Ed Jefferis) was one of the highlights of my childhood. I thought my grandfather knew everyone in the county.

My parents;

Frank Roy Folkerth

b 1900 Montgomery Co., OH, moved to DCO as young child, lived there until ca

1918 and in the vicinity until 1931.

d 1972 Kentucky

m 1931 to

Helen Marguerite Jefferis, aka 'Rite

b 1908 in DCO, lived there until marriage in 1931.

d 1982 Texas

Both considered Darke County to be 'home' and are buried in the Greenville

Cemetery.

My grandparents;

Frank Jordan Folkerth, aka Jordan or Jerd

b 1858 Montgomery Co., moved to DCO about 1902

d 1935 DCO

m 1880 to

Alice Charlotte Feirstine

b 1860 Montgomery or Greene Co., moved to DCO about 1902

d 1943 DCO

Both buried Greenville Cemetery.

Edward F. Jefferis

b 1876 DCO

d 1957 DCO

m 1900 to

Laura Harris Jefferis

b 1877 Benton Co., IN, moved to DCO 1898

d 1926 DCO

Both buried Palestine Cemetery.

My ggrandparents with DCO connections;

Milton Moore Jefferis

b 1833 DCO

d 1903 DCO

m 1855 to

Louisa Chenoweth

b 1835 DCO

d 1900 DCO

Lori Fox

I descend from John and Margaret (Faris) DOWNING who came to the Preble/Darke County area in 1814 from South Carolina.

John DOWNING (1776-1870) He purchased the first acreage where the Downing Fruit Farm is located. He married Margaret FARIS in South Carolina on 24 Apr 1804 and they came to Darke County with their 8 children.

Their first son, Samuel DOWNING (1805-1871) became a doctor of herbal medicine. He married Elizabeth BAIRD (1808-1884) in Darke County on 10 Sep 1829. They had 10 children. In the 1830's they moved across the line into Randolph County, Indiana.

Their firstborn son John (1830-1862) married Sarah GULLETT (1829-1812) in Randolph Co. in 1853. They had 4 children when John took sick and died.

Dr. Samuel DOWNING decided to move to Michigan in 1865 after losing 2 of his sons. He and Elizabeth moved with their 2 youngest children: Samuel Walker DOWNING and Catherine Elizabeth DOWNING. Two married daughters and their families accompanied them to Michigan. Sarah Jane DOWNING who was married to Josiah WILLIAMS with their 6 children and Margaret Carolin DOWNING who was married to John Jay PEACOCK and their 4 children. Soon Sarah GULLETT DOWNING, the widow of John moved to Michigan with her children to live with Dr. Sam and Elizabeth. Dr. Sam DOWNING returned to Indiana in 1870 to help fight an epidemic or perhaps for the funeral of his father, John. He was overcome with a stroke upon leaving a local drug store. He was taken to his son's house with whom he had been staying and died a few days later. He was buried in Indiana near his son John as the telegram said it was too hot that July to ship his body back to his wife Elizabeth who was here in Michigan. I am a ggggranddaughter of Dr. Sam and live just 2 miles on the same road as he lived.

John and Sarah GULLETT DOWNING's youngest son was Ezekiel John DOWNING (1861-1952) He married Maude ESTEP in 1886 here in Ionia County, Michigan. They had 6 children. I descend from the last born child: Homer Harold DOWNING (1901-1985) and Mamie Lucille WILLIAMS (1900-1989).

I am researching this family branch with the hope that along with the collaboration of some other DOWNING family. We can publish a book of the descendants of John and Mary PAGAN DOWNING (the parents of my John DOWNING who married Margaret FARIS). I am always glad to exchange information on these DOWNING descendants.
